ILLIONAIRE'S WIFE SUES LOVE RIVAL FOR $150,000

RICH HARVARD MAY NOW WITH OTHER WOMAN

Nephew of Pineapple King and Mrs. Martina Davis Living at Rumson, N. J.

A war between two Boston society women for the love of Arthur A. Dole, millionaire son of the poet Nathaniel Haskell Dole, received new impetus today when Mrs. Isabelle Dole of Cambridge admitted filing a suit for $150,000 against her successful "rival" and threatened drastic action against Dole.

At her home, 40 Shepard st., Mrs. Dole declared her husband had never divorced her, that she would not divorce him and that her "rival," Mrs. Martina Davis is an impostor.

NOW WITH OTHER WOMAN

The Cambridge woman revealed she knew Dole and Mrs. Davis were living in New Jersey under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Dole.

Declaring she had never seen Mrs. Davis and never wanted to, Mrs. Dole said:

"She has no right to my husband's name. My husband never divorced me, and it is she who has a Maine divorce let him show the papers. He knows he is married."

Told Mrs. Davis had referred to her as "that person," Mrs. Dole replied grimly: "We'll see about that." She added: "Mr. Dole is facing a much more serious charge than he thinks."

She continued the fact that the suit had been brought.

NEPHEW OF PINEAPPLE KING

The suit, filed in New Jersey Supreme Court at Freehold, names Mrs. Davis, a striking brunette of wealth and distinction, as defendant.

Dole is a nephew of Haskell Dole, the pineapple king of the Hawaiian Islands. He has a son, Arthur Dole, Jr., 14, who is living with his mother in Cambridge, Mass.

Dole and Mrs. Davis were found by the Boston Evening American correspondent today, living in a white bungalow near the Ocean Front in a secluded section of Rumson, the house is on Warren st., nearly a half-mile from the nearest neighbor.

BOTH WYAK SMOCKS
Both Dole and Mrs. Davis were attired in artists' smocks. He walked about the room in his shirt sleeves, smoking a pipe in true Harvard manner, passing from time to time to get one of the two dogs which complete the household.

"I divorced my wife last January in Mexico," Dole explained. "If she wants to fight she should fight me and not Mrs. Davis."

TRIBUTES PAID TO LONGWORTH

Leaders in Business and political life of the nation joined in tributes to Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the House, after his death today.

PRESIDENT HOOVER—Mr. Longworth served his fellow countrymen in state and nation for over 30 years—nearly the whole of his adult life. In his service he contributed greatly to the welfare of the American people. His happy character, his sterling honesty, his courage in public questions, endeared him and led the respect and love of his many friends and the country at large. His passing is a loss to the nation.

VICE-PRESIDENT CURTIS—The sudden illness and death of Speaker Longworth was a great shock to all who knew him. In his passing the House has lost a distinguished and able Speaker, one whose rulings were always fair and impartial.

MAJOR JAMES M. CULLEY—The American people suffer the loss of a public official who regarded not only his duty as Speaker of the House, but a position of great responsibility, but who lived true at all times to the highest and best ideals of the position he so ably filled. The nation may well join in extending sympathy to his beloved ones, with whom they share a loss in common.

GOVERNOR ELY—A lovable personality, an unselfish public servant, has been lost in the passing of Speaker Longworth, who seemed in the prime of his life. His many friends in Massachusetts, where he was a frequent and welcome visitor, will find some deeply mourn the loss occasioned by his death.

FORMER SENATOR WILLIAM M. BUTLER—I am shocked at the news of his passing. He was a strong factor in the legislative work of Congress and will be very greatly missed not only in Congress, but also in the councils of his party.

POLICE COMMISSIONER HULTMAN—I am very sorry to hear of Speaker Longworth's death. I have always regarded him as a man who had the welfare of his people at heart and who really understood what the people wanted.

EX-CONGRESSMAN PETER F. TAGUE—I regret exceedingly the passing of Speaker Longworth. He had the honor of serving with him for 10 years and I will remember him as a man exceptionally well qualified for the position he held. He was regarded very highly by his associates and his friendship is one of my most valued possessions.

EX-CONGRESSMAN JOSEPH F. O'CONNELL—I not only regarded him highly for his ability as a congressman, but also considered him an exceptional man personally. One of my treasures, which I treasure in my library, is a picture of him when he played on a baseball team in Washington.

FORMER MAYOR ANDREW J. PETERS—The death of Speaker Longworth will be deeply regretted by all those who served with him in Congress. He was a keen, fair-minded legislator and personally endeared himself to me and to both sides of the House in Washington.

EX-CONGRESSMAN EUGENE K. KINCAID OF NEW JERSEY—I deeply regret the passing of an great a man. He will long be remembered for the fine way in which he handled legislation and his office in general. He was as well thought of on our side of the fence as he was by his Republican brothers. He will be missed at the Capitol.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN J. DOUGLASS—He was not only a splendid Speaker of the House, but he was also one of the most beloved members of the House. He was kind of heart and gentle in manner.

FORMER GOVERNOR ALFRED C. SMITH—For years he has been a prominent and commanding figure in our national public life. His loss will be mourned by hosts of friends throughout the United States.

SENATOR JOE T. ROBINSON—For many years he has been a prominent factor in national politics with Longworth. Since he became Speaker he had been especially influential in the enactment and defeat of legislation.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN A. GARNER—Of Texas—He was a close friend and heart friend. He is a great loss to the country.

Polly Day Ends Romance With Bank Heir

Former Broadway Favorite Says She Got No Cash for Breaking Troth

LOVE PUTS SNAG AFTER A BRIEF ENGAGEMENT
Former Broadway Favorite Says She Got No Cash for Breaking Troth

New York, April 9—The transcontinental romance between Gordon Stewart of Omaha, Neb., 24-year-old heir to the Kountze banking millions, and Mary Josephine Groome of Columbia, Pa., and seven years ago a B card—has come Gibraltar.

The Broadway beauty told the Alpha and Omega of the romance in an exclusive interview with International News Service today.

"We became engaged in the middle of last February," said Mary, who was in the stage as Polly Day. "We broke it by mutual consent the first week in March."

"The report is silly that a member of the Kountze family gave me a cash settlement to break the engagement. Was I much in love with Gordon? I was very fond of him."

"But I knew it would never work out if we were married. We could not get along under the circumstances."

GORDON VERY YOUNG
Did the fact that he had been divorced in Harrisburg, Pa., in 1928, by Gayle Burlingame, theatrical man, affect the circumstances?

"I may have put young Stewart out of her life, but she was still a beautiful girl."

"Oh, it will be awful to have Gordon read about all this in the newspapers," she exclaimed. "He knows everybody in Omaha or everybody knows him and it will hurt him."

Mary's large brown eyes were two wells of wisdom.

"Gordon was very young—only 24," she said. "He was too young really to know for sure what he wanted."

Mary is only a few years older. She was married at the age of 17 to Burlingame. The slim, dimpled Mary is working as a model for commercial art work.

"I make enough to get along and make my apartment look like home," she said.

NO EASTER GIFT
There were flowers everywhere—memories of Easter.

"Did Gordon send you an Easter remembrance?" I asked. "No, he did not," she said simply.

There were lots of books. She loved to read. There was "Education of a Princess," by the Grand Duchess Marie of Russia, and a book on the adventures of Catherine, the great lover.

Gordon said she was not in love with anybody now—just living quietly. "I said I was not in love with anybody," she said.

SEVEN RESCUED IN LYNN BLAZE
Seven persons, including an infant girl, were rescued by police, and one man was burned today when a two-alarm fire broke out in the three-story building at Union and Lincoln sts., Lynn.

The blaze started in the shoe and hat cleaning shop of John Lazarus on the ground floor. Lazarus suffering burns about the hands when he attempted to put it out.

Mrs. Frank Mills, occupant of the room above the shoe store, was rescued. She had left her restaurant in the same block to dash into the burning building for the rescue of her Spitz puppy, Beauty.

Smoke had benumbed her in the third floor when Sgt. Hines found her and led her to safety.

A barber shop and a tire shop on either side of the shop of Lazarus were also damaged, the total estimated by fire officials at $200.

Leslie Carter and Belasco Patch Up
Los Angeles, April 9 (AP)—David Belasco and Mrs. Leslie Carter have become reconciled and, as proof of it, she says he is to present her in a play in New York.

The break between the theater manager and his star following her elopement with Lew Ayres, excited national interest many years ago. She had gone to Belasco as an unhappy marriage and divorce and a year later she had returned to the stage. When she eloped Belasco refused to see her and they went their respective ways.

KING NOW SAFE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, April 9 (AP)—Unlike William Hale Thompson, Chicago's new mayor, Anton J. Cermak, hasn't a thing against King George of England or any other king.

He said so when the London newspapers called him up on the telephone to ask questions about the election of King George.

Cermak chuckled when the London newspapers called him up on the telephone to ask questions about the election of King George.

"I didn't really fool you people, did I?" laughed the new Mayor. "No, he isn't really anti-British. The British voice is the smallest in Chicago, so he decided to pick on the British King."

The Democratic broom which swept Cermak in and reduced Thompson out of the mayoralty was poised for action today.

Cermak took the oath of office shortly before noon today and said he had promised to "clean out the City Hall" and that he proposed to "lose no time in doing it."

LANE WILL CASE UP TOMORROW

GRAF TAKES OFF FOR EGYPT

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Universal Service Special Cable Friedrichshafen, April 9—The Graf Zeppelin, bound for Cairo and Jerusalem, took off at 8 o'clock this morning with Commander Gokowen in charge.

In the first long flight of a dirigible since the R-101 disaster, the Graf Zeppelin carries a crew of 41 and 25 passengers, including three women. Egypt is expected to be reached Saturday morning.

Great Britain, which in 1929 refused permission for the Graf Zeppelin to fly over Egypt, this time is not only acquiescing but is sending him. Both, commander of the R-101, the Graf Zeppelin, and the Graf Zeppelin, are flying over French soil.

Indictive of France's anger at Germany, growing out of the Austro-German customs accord, the German embassy last night telephoned from Paris that the French government forbids the carrying of cameras by passengers while the Graf Zeppelin is flying over French soil.

GORDON DEATH ARREST DUE TO BOSTON MAN

and gave important information, Mulrooney said.

Policemen claim they have a telegram sent by the Boston man to Vivian Gordon, whose body was found in Van Cortlandt park, New York city, the week ago.

Mulrooney said the motive of the crime was robbery, although Gordon had offered herself as a vice probe witness and it had been suspected her death was related thereto.

On February 13, according to the commissioner, a telegram was sent from Boston to Vivian's home in Beaumont, reading:

"Unable to get you on telephone. In the matter of which I spoke several weeks ago all right."

"Everything all right. Call me any time."

Discovery of the cryptic message led to questioning of Vigdor. What information was obtained from him Commissioner Mulrooney declined to tell, but he indicated it was important in leading to the arrest of Stein and others.

Vigdor also disclosed information concerning Vivian Gordon's friends in New York, according to the New York police head, but he did not explain any further the connection between the Boston man and the slain "butterfly."

"PLAYED FOR SUCKER"

William Vigdor, who is in business with his father and brothers on Hanover st., directly opposite police station 1, was not at the core today and his name was said to have been away since Tuesday.

Receipt by him of a mysterious letter which may have figured in the Vivian Gordon mystery was revealed by his father, Louis Vigdor, at his home in Revere.

According to the father, a New York officer, who questioned him on, expressed the opinion he had been "played for a sucker."

"All I know is that a week or ten days ago a New York officer, I think a Capt. Flynn, talked with my son about some case," said Louis Vigdor.

PALE TRAIL

"My son told the officer he had received a letter from some man who was a stranger to him. What was in the letter I never heard."

"My son claimed he had not the writer of the letter at his section room, and he discussed this man at length with the policeman."

"From what the officer said I guess he was questioned somewhere wrote the letter to try to put the man at length with the policeman."

Stein and 4 Witnesses Arrested in New York

New York, April 9 (AP)—Harry Stein, who went to prison in 1923 for attempting to strangle a woman, was held today for the 36 murder of Vivian Gordon, stranger victim in Van Cortlandt park.

Four others were arrested as witnesses. All five said they were born in Russia.

Police produced three persons who identified Stein as the man who, on the day after the Gordon murder, was in possession of articles similar to those stolen from Vivian Gordon—a milk can, a wrist watch and a chain.

Records revealed Stein was convicted and sentenced in 1923 to ten years' imprisonment for robbing Mary Gleason of $200 in her Bronx apartment after he had wound, gagged and attempted to strangle her.

Stein, 34, was arrested after Samuel Greenhouse, alias Greenberg, Greenhouse and Greenhouse, 44 years old, occupation, tailor.

Dowd asserted that he would spare no effort to learn where all of the 5000 tons of coal allotted to the poor of Boston this year, and for which the city paid $17 a ton, was delivered.

Secretary McCarthy's reply to his latest charge was as follows:

"The charge of Councilor Dowd that coal is being delivered by the officers of the public welfare to persons residing in other cities is absurd. Coal has never been sent outside of the 22 Boston wards."

"The department is not permitted to operate outside of Boston and doesn't do so."

URGENT INQUIRY

Councilor Dowd also says he wants an investigation by state authorities. I would call his attention to the fact that the Boston Finance Commission, official investigation body of the city, has been probing this department for the past three weeks.

"Those who know the chairman of that body, Frank A. Goodwin, will realize that his investigation will be a thorough one and that he needs no outside assistance."

Better driving results in Any Car

Esso is not simply an added luxury for owners of the finest cars in this country and abroad. Its greater power makes it extremely desirable also in lighter and less expensive cars.

In many of these motors Esso develops as much as 20% more power than ordinary gasoline.

Esso, however, should not be classed with ordinary gasoline. Note in the chart below how it compares with the finest premium fuels heretofore developed.

Esso contains Ethyl of course. But it is far more than an Ethyl gasoline. Esso's initial base is what makes it so radical an advance.

Esso was developed in the laboratories of the world's leading oil company. Its success has been instantaneous. Already its use has spread to 20 foreign countries, as well as from Maine to Louisiana. In some sections, it is now used by more car-owners than any other gasoline regardless of price. In New Jersey, Esso constitutes nearly three-fourths of all premium fuel sold in the entire state!

Try the 10-day test of Esso in your own car. If you like results, you will never go back to other fuels. The COLONIAL BEACON OIL COMPANY, INC., Boston and New York.

Note how far superior to all other premium fuels Esso's knock-rating is. These results obtained with the Midgley Knocking Machine developed by General Motors and accepted and used by the Ethyl Gasoline Corporation. Esso will show the same superiority with

THREAT TO KILL EIGHT JAILS FATHER

Angered by a report of the approaching marriage of his daughter Mary, whose father he shot four years ago, Archibald De Franco threatened to wipe out his whole family, according to testimony in Sausage court today.

Arrested after threatening the lives of his sick wife and seven children while intoxicated, according to police, De Franco was sentenced to Salem jail for 60 days on a charge of drunkenness. Capt. John T. Stuart of the Sausage police said other charges.

In November of 1927, De Franco shot and seriously wounded Anthony Pappale, 16, of Prince st., North End, who was keeping company with Mary, then 14.

Young Pappale recovered, and De Franco, who testified he had been drinking and the shooting was an accident, was convicted of simple assault. He was placed on probation for one year.

Tuesday, according to police, De Franco learned that Mary was again contemplating matrimony and friends were planning a shower for her for Saturday night.

The bridegroom-to-be, this time, according to police, is John Oliver of Middlesex.

SHOW WINDOWS GOOD SELLERS, SAYS EXPERT

Store window display experts were cited as "multiple salesmen" selling ideas through attractive windows in a talk last night by George Housh, merchandising consultant for the Hearst newspaper before the Boston Display Men's Club.

More than 100 officials and window decorators attended the gathering at the Seary, Roebuck & Co. building for the first of two events planned in advance of the June convention of the International Association of Display Men to be held here.

"By means of selling ideas through attractive window displays you sell to a hundred or a thousand persons where the individual salesman sells to one," he told the group.

He laid down three rules by which merchants may achieve success in 1931: a cleanout of stock through sales or elimination of other than best lines; the keeping of an exact assortment in these lines; and a larger volume of business on a smaller investment.

He advised wide advertisements in the best selling, streamlining simplicity, forcefulness and truth in the advertising.

For the best possible return, he said, best sellers could be artistically arranged in window displays with sales messages; a continuation that will attract attention, create interest and the desire to own. It always results in buying, he added.

TROOPS GUARD PORTUGAL AS REVOLT GROWS

Lisbon, Portugal, April 9 (AP)—All troops here were confined to barracks today except for details left to guard public buildings. Reports were current that a revolutionary outbreak in Lisbon itself was scheduled for today. An unusually tense atmosphere was apparent.

When government officials arrived at their offices today they found sentries at the portals to buildings who demanded identification papers and would not let them in without them.

All military leaves were cancelled and it was said that troops in barracks were under full equipment and ready to be thrown onto the streets at a moment's notice.

The high commissioner of Angola, Admiral Sousa de Faro, has unexpectedly left for Lisbon. No word has been received from Angola in 24 hours. This and the censorship have led to belief that the Angolan garrison, known to be shaky in sentiment, had broken into rebellion.

Army and Navy Forces
Join in Revolution

London, April 9 (AP)—A Lisbon dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph today said unofficial reports were current there that the expeditionary force sent to quell the revolt at Funchal, Madeira, had joined the revolution.

The troops and naval forces, it was said, had wireless the government from their ships demanding that the present dictatorship be replaced by a constitutional regime.

Notables Are Bearers

POPULARITY OF CHEAP CUTS OF MEAT IS GROWING

Due to New Idea in Seasoning Meat with Sugar as Well as Salt

Never before has such attention been paid to cooking inexpensive meat. By slow cooking and thoughtful seasoning many housewives have surprised themselves with tasteful meat dishes at low cost.

Among the various methods now in vogue, the use of sugar and salt in perfecting the flavor of the meat is gaining in favor. Some cooks add equal parts of salt and sugar to the pot-coast or stew. Others use these ingredients in quantities to suit their taste.

The economy of this simple seasoning lies in the fact that it develops a fine flavored meat dish without requiring the use of a wide variety of vegetables and sauces. Often the cost of these supplementary ingredients offsets the saving made at the meat market. Most foods are more delicious with sugar.

TURK, 157, GLAD TO ESCAPE U. S.

New York, April 9 (AP)—Zaro Agba, the Turk who claims to be 157 years old, sailed for London on the steamer Bremen, and glad he was to shake the dust of the United States from his American style shoes.

For this Turk, who says he is a veteran of five wars and 31 marriages, has had enough of U. S. He wants to get back to his home in Istanbul. Everybody has been most kind to him. He has met many eminent Americans, but to a man who says he remembers the face of Napoleon Bonaparte such honors are puny.

In Istanbul he will be close to the various forms of his various relatives—there are 36 sons and daughters alone, by Zaro's count, and on a farm a man can really stretch himself.

Zaro avers he has had three natural sets of teeth, the last arriving when he was 105 and staying with him 35 years.

But teeth aren't necessary to him, as he said no food that requires much mastication.

Dear Al—

George ("The Patch") Holland, former inmate of Newmarket, has forgotten a couple of things when he was reminiscing with you the other day. He neglected to mention the fact that he was once in the Midway and went to the Copley-Plaza. You started with a Bronx at the Midway and then had a drink at the Copley-Plaza. The idea was to reach the Copley-Plaza. Some few did it.

He forgot, too, to mention John Parker's place, which ran between Arch and Devonshire sts., where Andy used to go for a drink and a chase of Ten-Guinness ale as solemnly that several times customers used to take off their hats when he approached. And remember, too, that he was once in the Midway and went to the Copley-Plaza.

He volunteered the information that his wife lays a noble carnation on the table near his plate every morning at breakfast during winter and spring and a bachelor button during summer.

JUDGE COX WILL PRESIDE AT NOBLE TRIAL

Lawrence, April 9 (AP)—Judge Louis D. Cox today was appointed to preside at the session of Superior Court at which it is expected Russell Noble, alleged hammer slinger, will be tried.

The session begins May 18, to last five weeks, and it is possible a special session will be called for the Hammerball school's trial.

In his cell at Lawrence jail today Noble had as visitors his attorney, Richard J. McCormick, and Dr. Charles A. Bonner, superintendent of the state hospital at Danvers, and Dr. L. Vernon Briggs, noted alienist.

The alienist made the third examination of the youth's mental state, and said they would return this week for a fourth.

Atty. McCormick said today: "Russell is still accepting his confinement philosophically. He talks well, and continues his reading."

EMIR ALI TO BE SYRIA'S KING

Jerusalem, April 9 (AP)—Florence reaching here from Bagdad today by way of Aleppo said the French had signed an agreement with Emir Ali, under which he will become king of Syria.

Emir Ali is the son of former King Hussein Ben Ali of the Hedjaz, former grand, sheriff of Mecca. One brother of Ali is king of Transjordan, and another brother is King Faisal of Iraq.

If reports are true, it may mark a partial repayment by one of the former allies for services rendered by Hussein during the World War.

GANDHI TO DON PANTS ON TRIP TO LONDON

Amritsar, India, April 9 (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, making his plans today for his forthcoming visit to London for the second round table conference on an Indian constitutional status, said he had decided to wear pants in the British capital.

Discarding his first intention of appearing there attired only in gossamer in cloth and shawl, he said that if the weather is sufficiently cool he will clothe himself in ordinary European trousers.

He indicated that it was even possible that he would appear at the round table sessions with his light or chutis shaved off. The chutis is a long tuft of hair worn usually by Hindus whose popular interpretation of the mode is that it entice friends when the wearer dies, to pull him out of hell. Gandhi wears the chutis habitually, although otherwise he is bald.

Although deciding to wear trousers in London, Gandhi declared that he would not wear a white starched shirt and would decline to attend formal public banquets.

Club Alabam Has Lost Its License

The license of the Club Alabam, Winchester, it has been revoked, according to a notice received today by Leo Schwartz, legal adviser to the police commissioner, from the Boston Licensing Board.

The reason given was the liquor convictions of Samuel Stern, Joseph Mander and David Harrison in municipal court. The defendants have appeared.

Hospital to Close If $100,000 Drive Fails

If a drive to raise $100,000 is unsuccessful, the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital may have to close its doors, Henry B. Grew, president of the board of trustees, announced today.

The famous hospital, which formerly opened under the name of Massachusetts Memorial Hospital, has been hit hard by the depression, Grew stated, and used all available reserve funds last year. The $100,000 is necessary to complete this year's budget. The drive will begin in the near future.

Stop Children Going Wrong, Says Field

"Let us teach the job at the beginning and have children before they go wrong, rather than try to restore them after the evil has been done," said Henry F. Field of the personal department of state prison today, addressing the women's committee of Judge Baker Foundation Fund.

"We go at crime prevention the wrong way. We should back the youngsters under adolescence, particularly those who are 'different,' and work with them."

Mary Lou To Ride Out With Lorry

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR
Mary Lou Thurston, a beautiful and vivacious girl of the "home town," orphaned by the death of her parents, lives with her aunt and uncle, Clara and Howard Sanderson. The former is private secretary to a publisher, and the latter an engineer. Larry Mitchell, energetic young newspaper reporter, is Mary Lou's pal. Sanderson runs a wonderful business. Mary Lou is to go to the Greek and take his wife as secretary. Mary Lou is to stay temporarily with Grandpa Jennings, Clara's mother. Larry is eager to marry Mary Lou and take care of her, but Mary Lou convinces him they are really good pals and she asks him to help her get a job. She applies to the Lawrence's and is accepted by the son of the house as his wife, named "Delight." Mary Lou qualifies as companion for Travers, who seems to find her different from the remembrance of his "wife."

"FLAPPER" it came, though. And she's been proven recently enough. I've lent her to Jenny Wynne rather often, when she needed an extra saddle horse. Jenny's a neighbor of ours, a distant relative," she explained to Mary Lou, "and she's always having house parties and needing to borrow anything from horses to golf balls."

"If Jenny was killed," began Larry, "wouldn't it be a good horse for a lecture?" "I didn't say she was killed," laughed his mother. "But any part in a storm." She looked at her son thoughtfully and added, usually, as if a storm was on his part was an everyday occurrence. "Don't worry about it, as long as you're with it. I think, I thought it was a good idea, perhaps you remember, and he's in excellent condition, Masters told me."

Members of the Junior Naval Militia, Inc., of New York, 47 strong, ranging in age from 11 to 15 years, got a taste of real navy life when they visited the navy yard and inspected coast guard ships before heading down the bay to Plymouth on a night-seaing cruise.

PRISON SEEN AS FIRE TRAP BY VISITORS

Antiquated conditions at the State prison in Charlestown were deplored by a group of Illinois legislators who are making a tour of inspection of Eastern prisons. While the visitors had nothing but the highest praise for the administration of the prison, they were severely critical of physical conditions of the 125-year-old structure.

"The place seems to me to be a firetrap," said Lindbergh, Fred J. Manning, who headed the delegation. "The obsolete layout of the place would lead to a tragedy worse than the bolt-cut at Columbus should a fire of appreciable proportions break out. Should we, in Illinois, try to operate a prison with physical equipment so antiquated, the reformers would howl us out of office."

Rep. Michael L. Igo, who is also Democratic national committeeman from Illinois, was outspoken in his praise of the industries owned by the prisoners at Charlestown and declared that a similar system in Illinois institutions would militate against such unrest as that which Forty-seven boys, ranging in age from 11 to 15 years, members of the Junior Naval Militia, Inc., of New York, sailed from Base E, East Boston, on the coast guard patrol Faunce and Dix for Plymouth and Cape Cod today.

The boys, who have been in Boston since Monday, making a tour of historic places, are under the command of Capt. Harry E. Valner.

Tomorrow noon they will be greeted at City Hall by Mayor Curley, and Saturday they return to New York, stopping at Providence for a short period.

The visit of the boys is an annual affair, won by deeds of heroism, with a different city visited each year.

caused the recent riots in Joliet penitentiary.

"Never have I seen a group of prisoners so contented as these," said Rep. Igo. "There is an atmosphere reflected which speaks well of the prisoners' treatment."

"Beyond a shadow of doubt, the spirit of the inmates is a result of the system which keeps a man occupied during the time he is in the penitentiary."

"Then, too, the discipline here is not anything as in many institutions. There is a complete absence of brutality in dealing with infractions of prison rules."

The Illinois legislators left last night for Ossining, N. Y., where they will inspect Sing Sing prison.

CITY DEMANDS AUTO FINES

The system by which the state takes all motor vehicle fines was condemned as unfair today by Thomas H. Blodgett, special counsel for Mayor Curley, before the legislative joint committee on ways and means.

Blodgett said the fines should go to cities and towns to help lower their taxes.

He said the fines from the state in Boston amount to $250,000 or $250,000 a year.

Alfred F. Foote, commissioner of public safety, said the system of allowing fines to go to cities and towns was abolished 30 years ago because officers in the small towns were making arrests by wholesale.

Brickbottom Man Held in Rum Case

Charged with the possession of a large quantity of liquor and materials for manufacturing synthetic "bonded goods," two men seized in a raid in the Brickbottom section of Somerville today went on trial before Judge James A. Lowell in federal court.

Prohibition agents testified a raid in a building occupied by Antonia Dierna and Alphonse Leheret at 40 Bedford st. netted evidence indicating the building was a storehouse for bootleggers.

George W. Burlin, 41, of Benoit st., Worcester, pleaded guilty to possession and manufacture of liquor and was fined $250 by Judge Lowell.

L' ST. BATHS TO OPEN SATURDAY

The new $350,000 L. St. bathhouse in South Boston will be dedicated by Mayor Curley Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The structure is the most modern of its kind along this section of the Atlantic seaboard and replaces the old wooden building which was located there for many years.

With those words Harold K. Chaslin, treasurer of an Edinboro, Pa., dry goods company today forgave John Brown of South Boston, an old employee charged with theft in municipal court.

Not only that, but Chaslin said he would take Brown back into his employ. Chaslin said that in the past he had been made "brown and blue" by the police, but he had never been in prison.

$50 Weekly for News Tips

Do you want to get money for being alert? If so, the Boston Evening American offers the opportunity. Each week $50 in prizes will be given for news and picture tips telephoned in to the News-Tip Editor at Liberty 4000.

What is a news tip? It's the information that something of interest to Greater Bostonians has taken place or will take place. Do you know, for instance, that an interesting picture is to be obtained, that an accident or an unusual event has happened, that there is going to be a business merger? That's a news tip.

If you have a camera, take a picture of some news event while it is happening. Bring your pictures to the American quick. Delay often spoils them for use.

There will be $10 given weekly for the best or the most unusual event news tip received; $10 for the next best; $5 for the next best; and $1 prize for each of the 10 next most valuable tips.

NAB PAIR FOR GEM ROBBERY

A few hours after jewelry and cash were missed from the home of William L. Anderson, assistant secretary to Mayor Curley, two men were arrested in the South End charged with the break in the Anderson home.

They gave their names as Daniel Sullivan, 32, of New York city, and Paul McElroy, 30, of Providence, R.I.

They were captured in a Worcester jail where police seized $50,000 worth of the Anderson jewels.

According to Capt. John M. Anderson of the Rock Division at the station, both men admitted the break in the Anderson home.

MALDEN POLICE FIGHT ENDED

An amiable was declared today by Mayor William A. Hastings of Malden and Police Commissioner James E. Sweeney, whom he has been seeking to oust from office.

A statement issued by the mayor and approved by Sweeney announced that the ouster proceeding would be discontinued.

A group of citizens friendly to both the mayor and police commissioner has been in repeated conference with both during the last few days.

It has been agreed that without prejudice to either, the proposed proceedings against the commissioner shall be held in abeyance.

The statement explains why the charges against Sweeney, made by the mayor, were not presented to the aldermen last Tuesday night as planned.

PRIME MARGIN

What do you think of dividend being earned? I also quote current quotations.

General Refractories is a company reporting $7.12 a share last year, these figures cover the $4.99, by an ample margin. Dividend from 1923; reduced to $2.00, 1926.

NOT INVESTMENT

—Please give information and consider the stock a good investment. Petroleum is a speculation. It's a share expected April 15 in varying amounts, with a 10 percent $2 rate from January, 1930 to December 31, 1930, amounted to $2.00 in 1929. Savings bank fund investment. How much cash?

BELOW DIVIDENDS

—Is there anything else about Radiator? I have 50 shares.

—It is impossible for us to sell American Radiator & Standard Oil stock of the present company here. The stock is a speculation. It is affected by the falling off in business, but it is not a bad investment only to 60 cents a share. According to an official, the price of the stock is 60 cents.

YOUR REGULAR INCOME
I am a middle-aged woman who works in a bank. Please suggest ways to increase my regular income.

The bonds are guaranteed by the earnings of the stocks, and the interest is less than $7,000 and the principal is less than $100,000.

'Across the Footlights'

This Is Jubilee Week for Worthy Cause

This is National Players' and Patrons' Jubilee Week, set aside by the amusement world as the annual call to members of the theatrical profession and their audiences to extend the helping hand of charity to those of the stage who are ill and in distress. "Hands across footlights" is the slogan for actors and audience, and this splendid gesture is an appeal to every pleasure-seeker to come to the support of the National Yacht-ville Artists' Banquet at Saratoga Lake, New York.

The great institution, erected for those who had given and are still giving their best so that we may have a happy hour or two now and then, is now ready to take into its care all those of the theatrical profession whom misfortune has made unable to carry on.

The New York American indicates the public response to the boundless charity of the profession, when it says: "A benefit performance will be given by a large number of stage and screen artists." How familiar are these words now-adays! We read them so often that at times we are apt to forget what kindness, generosity and self-sacrifice lie behind them. The player's calling is an arduous one at the best. And when the curtain falls, he dashes off—as likely as not without removing his mummer's garb and grease-paint—to perform elsewhere from only goodness of heart.

Performers are the first to respond with money and their talents to every deserving charity that calls upon them. Their optimism is proverbial. They are of the profession that believes that we are all dependent on each other's good will for happiness and well-being. Charity and human sympathy are the first of Christian principles. Christ said: "Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them"—not by their words but by their works. The devoted juggler, who, in Anatole France's tale, performed on his knees before the statue of Our Lady in the Cathedral, served greatly, because he gave of all he had to give. May all men thank and may God bless the people of the stage and screen for their good works. And in remembering the deeds of these charitable people, and their beneficent performances, let us also remember the injunction of the Saviour:

"Go and do thou likewise!"

An Invitation to Ollie

Garrett Might Tell Us Who "They" Are

It is a peevish Garrett who rails against his fate at Charles street jail, according to stories emanating from the ex-raider's circle of friends.

While the tales of his threatening to "tell all" because he has been refused him, as a result of his historic flight, may lack official confirmation, yet it is a pleasing possibility.

Garrett knows, of course, that the public has a keen curiosity not only as to his guilt or innocence but also as to the men in the background who by common rumor are supposed to have profited most heavily by corruption and vice protection. Garrett, according to present story, is "tired of this goat," and of being in jail "while they walk the streets."

Boston would be mightily interested in knowing just who "they" are. It has its suspicions, of course, but Garrett may have some inside information.

The Boston Evening American, in common with Boston citizens generally, always has felt that Garrett could tell a very intriguing story, if he would. This newspaper offers its news columns to the peevish Ollie to tell this story, to "tell all," and promises him not only by far the largest audience in Boston, but a very receptive one.

The Quiet Child

'Tis a bright child that doesn't act too brightly. So, in effect, remarked Dr. Joseph Miller at Columbia University, when he gave his survey of the intelligence of 1900 children in Pennsylvania schools.

He found out that 25 per cent of children called "bright" by their teachers were merely big. Thirty-five per cent of slow-talking youngsters, classed as "dull," were above normal in mentality.

Perhaps that is the reason they talk so little. They have ideas of their own, and are hostile to adults so impudent as to quiz them and ask such idiotic things as "What's your name?" It is high time somebody took the cudgel on behalf of children who keep their delicate and secret thoughts to themselves and ask of adults nothing but to be left alone.

Where Your Money Goes

Twelve Billions of It

This country, says the New York State Crime Commission, pays $12,000,000,000 to $18,000,000,000 a year to racketeers. That is three or four times more than the cost of the entire Federal Government.

Most of the rackets are founded in prohibition, which taught the racketeers how to operate and furnished them the capital on which to operate.

How do you like it?

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Too Many Sirens

It is every woman's solemn duty

To be a young and raving beauty!

BE BEAUTIFUL, fair maid,

and let who will be good—or clever be beautiful—or you'll be sunk! The men demand it.

How beautiful! By Cleopatra,

Helena of Troy and Lillias

Russell could all come back and walk down Fifth ave. not less would be turned to look after them, in fact, they would all probably rush to a beauty-shop for repairs and facia-lifts after a glance at the passing galaxy of hand-made sirens.

There are no outstanding beauties today, because the whole manner of women are so dazzling, derived and obviously beautiful that not even Venus could stand out in the average crowd.

It's really no feat to be beautiful,

if you have nothing but time, money and a great capacity for suffering.

Glance down just one small column of advertisements, we find the following glittering promises:

"Faces Lifted," "Contours Restored," "Lines and Wrinkles Removed," "Noises Corrected," "Super-fluuous Hair Destroyed," "Warts

and Blemishes Removed," "Permanent Waving," "Eyelashes Beautified," "Reducing Belts," "Rejuven-ating Cream"—What, why go on?

Yet—

The only catch in it is that it has turned the men for a plain, unadorned demure with nothing but a single face and beauty of the mind to offer. And it has set the man's life-task beside which the job of being a wife, cook, valedictress and mother is a mere side-issue.

SACRIFICED TO RECKLESS DRIVING

Listen, World!—I'm Mad

By ELSIE ROBINSON

Don't Make the Cake Fall

I'M MAD. I've spoiled a cake.

A gorgeous chocolate cake—one of those truck affairs that you must take away very slowly for 40 minutes.

During which time you must

peek, least you

let in a draft.

If you let in that draft while the cake is in the oven, before

the bubbles have settled in the dough.

"It's a cake," I

will, you know

what I could wait

40 minutes. Had to peek. There it was, rising

beautifully—getting ready for its big act. But that act will never come off, now. For it's in a draft. Chilled the bubbles —killed the fizz. And the cake is a flat, lifeless

thing.

Disgusting—to do a thing like that, just because you can't control your impatience and curiosity

Yet how often I've done it to things more valuable than cake.

HOW OFTEN I HAVE DONE

IT TO HUMAN SPIRITS

Cakes and characters—they're pretty much alike.

Common enough ingredients in both of them.

Plain flour and butter, sugar and eggs—supposed to be the ordinary sense and decency and honesty and integrity of the character. Nothing very remarkable about either. Can't tell whether the flour will make fine cake or sloppy gravy. Can't tell whether the character will end in a man or a meron.

But there's something in both of them.

Something in the makings of a man.

Something sensitive and mysterious but terrifically potent.

Yet—

—that, by its ferment, fills that hazy batter with bubble 'n' fizz.

PRIDE in the man—and AMBITION in the woman—by their force and fury fill his soggy batter with ferment without fear and without repentance.

The most miraculous sight on earth, the process of a human being, being a man rising up, out of his soggy batter with secret ferment within himself. Seeing his stupidity and laziness and fear transformed into intelligence and action and courage.

Just as you can make a rising

fall by letting in a draft, SO

YOU CAN MAKE A RISING

SPIRIT FALL BY YOU CHILL-

ING DURING THAT STRUGGLE.

Give a man's pride time and it will do wonders with him.

BUT CHILL HIM WITH

DOUBT, OR CRITICISM OR

RIDICULE BEFORE HIS

CHARACTER HAS "SET" AND

HE'LL BE A FALLEN CAKE

FOR LIFE.

Every day you meet characters that have fallen like that. Characters that "fell" in the young years, under the nagging and meddling of some older person... of some one who wouldn't give the youngsters time to "set."

Give the other fellow time to rise

—time to do his suit. Maybe you don't understand what he's trying to do. Maybe you don't approve of the way he's doing it. Maybe you think he's stupid and clumsy and stupid. Never mind—GIVE

HIM TIME!

LEAVE HIM ALONE WITH

THE MYSTERIOUS FORCES

WITHIN HIMSELF. UNTIL

HIS BATTER DOESN'T SETTLE

PEAK. ABOVE ALL, DON'T DOUBT

BEFORE HIM AND GIVE

HIM TIME—AND HE'LL PUT

ON HIS BIG ACT.

American.

New York Day by Day

About Dramatic Critics

NEW YORK, April 9.—Metropolitan dramatic critics have been petted with a number of shining volleys this year. Ethel Barrymore, in a temperamental pet, let go a double-barreled barrage. And the fiery Richard Bennett, of course, takes them for a ride in every cur-culous speech.

Channing Pollock in a recent outburst explained: "The only person who loves a critic is his mother, and she loves him because of an anal

instinct."

A number of disappointed playwrights and

players are frequently baiting

the critics. It is a Radio diversion.

At a matter of truth, the leading

dramatic critics are eminently tolerant and, without exception, fair. I sat with them at every opening night for a season and was always amazed at the next morning at their studious consideration for everyone concerned.

One or two salt their critiques with venom and seem querulously amused that performers are allowed to live, but they are the critical show-offs and are not considered seriously. Sarcasm is the most ef-
